

David H. Wood H.

David H. Wood, a native of Nashville, Tennessee, joined Smith Cashion & Orr, PLC as an Associate in 2016. He concentrates his practice on construction law and litigation, real estate law, and general civil litigation including commercial, industrial, healthcare, and residential projects and disputes.

Mr. Wood graduated Cum Laude from Clemson University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Construction Science and Management in 2011, where he served as President of the Student Chapter of the Associated Builders and Contractors.

During his time at Clemson, Mr. Wood interned for Waldrop Mechanical Services, Inc., a regional mechanical subcontractor in Spartanburg, South Carolina, and TIC Inc., an industrial contractor and a division of Kiewit Corporation, one of the largest contractors in the world. During his internship with TIC, Mr. Wood worked on construction of the Wayne County Plant in Goldsboro, North Carolina, a combined cycle natural gas power plant operated by Duke Energy.

After Clemson, Mr. Wood accepted a position at TIC as a Field Engineer and worked on the construction of the Sutton Combined Cycle Plant in Wilmington, North Carolina. During his time as a Field Engineer, Mr. Wood worked on the productivity tracking, estimating, and scheduling for both heat recovery steam generator boilers at the Sutton Combined Cycle Plant.

Following his time at TIC, Mr. Wood returned to Nashville and accepted a position at R.C. Mathews in Nashville, Tennessee as a Project Engineer on small commercial projects throughout the city until he began law school in 2013.

Mr. Wood earned his Doctor of Jurisprudence from The University of Tennessee College of Law in 2016, graduating Summa Cum Laude. While at law school, Mr. Wood served as the Vice President of the Environmental Law Organization.
